DUDLEY THE COCKATOO

Don Spencer

Published by Mushroom

Chorus

Dudley, Dudley, Dudley the Cockatoo,
What a clever bird - 'cos he will talk to you
Dudley, Dudley, Dudley the Cockatoo,
You just say the word and he will say it too!

He barks like a dog, meows like the cat,
He says "Hullo Darl", just like my Aunty Pat.
He whistles like a kettle, and the Postman too,
It gets so confusing we don't know who is who!

Chorus

We never clip his wings because he likes to fly,
And play with all his feathered friends up in the sky,
Then down he comes onto his perch and looks you in the eye
He fluffs his feathers and squawks out loud
"What a good cockie am I!"

Chorus

We never clip his wings because he likes to fly,
And play with all his feathered friends up in the sky,
Then down he comes onto his perch and looks you in the eye
He fluffs his feathers and squawks out loud
"What a good cockie am I!"

Chorus

Dudley the cockatoo.
