MUSIC

EMU

Don Spencer/Allan Caswell

Published by MCA-Gilbey

I wonder what it's like to be a bird that cannot fly,
While all the other birds are flying high up in the sky.
Well the emu doesn't worry he's really down to earth,
I think he thinks that flying is more trouble than it's worth.

Chorus

But he can run,
Boy can he run!
He thunders through the outback like a shot out of a gun!
And he knows,
His way around,
You see a lot more of Australia, mate, with both feet on the ground!

The emu's far too big to fly with wings as small as that,
But he'll do fifty up a mountain and eighty on the flat.
Though his plumage isn't pretty, there's no music in his song,
When he gets those big legs pumping he can really scoot along!

Chorus x 2
