IN THE GARDEN

Don Spencer

Published by MCA-Gilbey

Chorus

I wonder if you know,
That living in the garden,
There's lots of company.
Let's look around and see what can be found,
Down on the ground, with a worm's eye view,
Living in a garden close to you.

Spindly spiders spinning silky webs,
Crawly creatures - some with many legs.
An earth worm sliding, with no legs at all
It wriggles where it wants to go -
It's very slow.
Down on the ground, with a worm's eye view
Living in a garden close to you.

Chorus

Snails that carry their houses where they go,
Sliding along - moving oh-so slow.
You might see a ladybird having a little doze,
Ladybird, ladybird fly away home -
She goes.
Down on the ground, with a worm's eye view
Living in a garden close to you.

Butterflies flutter by - beauty on the wing,
Bees a-buzzing - careful they don't sting.
Ants so busy working all the day,
I wonder if they stop for lunch -
Or if they ever play?
Down on the ground, with a worm's eye view
Living in a garden close to you.

Down on the ground, with a worm's eye view
Living in a garden close to you.
